Acknowledgments

To our friends and families, who cheered us on during the innumerable writings and rewritings of this manuscript. We could not have done it without you.

To all the talented people at UBC Press who have made our dream a reality:
To Peter Milroy and Jean Wilson for their unflagging support and for so skilfully guiding the manuscript along the road to publication.
To George Maddison and Berit Kraus for their contributions to the production and marketing of our book.
To Camilla Jenkins for her fine eye for detail in preparing the manuscript for publication and for her masterly handling of the many demanding tasks that came her way as editor.

We thank George Vaitkunas for the book design. It is far better than we had dared to hope.

And a special thanks to freelance editorial assistant Jennifer Birmingham. Her dedication and skill over so many months of effort helped turn hard work into unexpected pleasure.

We would also like to acknowledge the museums and archives that allowed us to reproduce work from their collections: the Royal Ontario Museum, the National Archives of Canada, the Peabody Museum, the Art Gallery of Ontario, and in particular the Stark Museum of Art. We would also like to thank the Nelda C. and H.J. Lutcher Stark Foundation for allowing us to quote from Paul Kane’s diary, now in the collection of the Stark Museum of Art.