

FIGURES

- 2.1 Correlations between party identification and candidate/president affect, 1956–2004 / 12
- 2.2 Correlations between party identification and president / presidential candidate thermometers, 1968–2016 / 14
- 2.3a Correlations between party identification and favorable views of Bush, Gore, and Clinton, December 1999–January 2001 / 15
- 2.3b Correlations between party identification and favorable views of Bush and Kerry, October 2003–November 2004 / 15
- 2.3c Correlations between party identification and favorable views of Obama, McCain, H. Clinton, and Bush, December 2007–November 2008 / 16
- 2.4 Favorability of partisans toward Obama and McCain, December 2007 through November 2008 / 17
- 2.5 Correlations between party identification and thermometer ratings of Obama, H. Clinton, Bush, and McCain, 2008–2009 / 17
- 2.6a Effect of presidential or presidential candidate affect on party affect, controlling for party identification, Republicans / 19
- 2.6b Effect of presidential or presidential candidate affect on party affect, controlling for party identification, Democrats / 20
- 2.7 Effect of ratings of candidates/presidents on ratings of their parties, by status and party identification / 20
- 2.8 Effect of presidents' / presidential candidates' thermometer ratings on party thermometer ratings, controlling for party identification, 1978–2016 / 21
- 2.9 Correlations between candidate and party affect, by party identification, 2008 / 22
- 2.10 Relative impact of party identification and candidate affect on party affect / 23
- 2.11 Relative impact of candidate/president affect on party affect, controlling for party identification, January–October 2008 / 24

- 2.12 Relative effect of Eisenhower and Nixon affect on Republican Party affect, 1956–1968, controlling for party identification / 27
- 2.13 Relative effect of Republican leaders' affect on party affect, controlling for party identification / 28
- 2.14 Relative effect of Democratic president/candidate thermometer on Democratic Party thermometer, controlling for party identification / 28
- 2.15 Relative effect of Republican president/candidate thermometers on Republican Party thermometer, controlling for party identification / 29
- 3.1a Presidential approval and favorable opinions of the president's party, Clinton, G. W. Bush, and Obama administrations / 35
- 3.1b Positive opinions of the president and his party, Clinton, G. W. Bush, and Obama administrations / 35
- 3.2 Approval of G. W. Bush's performance and favorable opinions of the Republican Party across time / 37
- 3.3a Approval of Bill Clinton's performance and favorable opinion of the Democratic Party, by party identification / 38
- 3.3b Approval of George W. Bush's performance and favorable opinions of the Republican Party, by party identification / 38
- 3.3c Approval of Barack Obama's performance and favorable opinions of the Democratic Party, by party identification / 39
- 3.4 Strength of opinions of president and favorable opinions of his party / 41
- 3.5 Approval of the president and Congress 1993–2016 (quarterly averages) / 46
- 3.6 Approval of the president's job performance and approval of his party or party leaders in Congress / 48
- 3.7a Approval of Clinton and Democrats in Congress, by party identification / 48
- 3.7b Approval of G. W. Bush and Republicans in Congress, by party identification / 49
- 3.7c Approval of Obama and Democrats in Congress, by party identification / 49
- 3.8 Rating of president and president's party in congress as doing an "excellent" or "pretty good" job (Harris Polls) / 50
- 3.9 Mean thermometer scores for the president and his party, by party identification, 1978–2016 / 58
- 4.1 Party superiority on handling the most important problem, Truman through Obama administrations / 64
- 4.2 Partisan opinions of party competence, Truman through Obama administrations / 65
- 4.3 Presidential approval and relative party preference on most important problem / 66
- 4.4 Approval of Clinton's performance, by domain (quarterly averages) / 74

- 4.5 Approval of G. W. Bush's performance, by domain (quarterly averages) / 75
- 4.6 Approval of Obama's performance, by domain (quarterly averages) / 76
- 4.7 Party advantage on handling the economy, 1981–2017 / 78
- 4.8 Approval on economy and party advantage on the economy / 79
- 4.9 Average annual Democratic advantage in dealing with health care issues / 84
- 4.10 Opinions on the ACA, Obama's handling of health care, and Democratic Party superiority on health care / 86
- 4.11 Democratic Party advantage on handling education / 87
- 4.12 Party advantage on handling foreign policy, G. H. W. Bush to Obama administrations / 90
- 4.13 Presidential approval on foreign policy and president's party's advantage on foreign policy / 90
- 4.14 Party advantage on handling terrorism, 2001–2016 / 93
- 4.15 Approval of G. W. Bush's handling of terrorism and the Republican Party's advantage on the issue / 93
- 4.16 Party better able to prevent World War III / 95
- 4.17 Presidential approval and opinion on which party cares more about "people like you" or "the middle class" / 97
- 5.1 Ideological location of parties and presidential candidates, by partisans / 104
- 5.2 Average locations of the parties and presidents / presidential candidates on the liberal–conservative scale, 1972–2016 / 105
- 5.3 Location of presidents/candidates and parties on 7-point scales, 1972–2016 / 106
- 6.1 Party identification, 1993–2016 (leaners excluded) / 135
- 6.2 Party identification, 1993–2016 (leaners included) / 136
- 6.3 Democrats' share of party identifiers, 1993–2016 / 137
- 6.4 Presidential approval and macropartisanship, Clinton, G. W. Bush, and Obama administrations (monthly averages of Gallup Polls) / 138
- 7.1 Party identification, by year respondent turned 20 (leaners included) / 145
- 7.2 Party identification, by year respondent turned 20 (leaners excluded) / 146
- 7.3 Party identification by president at age 20 (leaners included) / 147
- 7.4 Party identification by president at age 20 (no leaners) / 148
- 7.5 Democratic share of party identifiers by race/ethnicity and year respondent turned 20 (leaners included) / 149
- 7.6 Racial/ethnic composition of the respondent population by year respondent turned 20 / 150
- 7.7 Approval of Barack Obama's job performance, 2009–2016 / 151

- 7.8 Approval of Obama's job performance, by age group / 152
- 7.9 Approval of G. W. Bush's job performance, by age group / 152
- 7.10 Approval of Obama's performance by party and year respondent turned 20, 2014–2015 / 153
- 7.11 Ideology by year respondent turned 20 / 154
- 7.12 Ideology of Republicans by year respondent turned 20 / 155
- 7.13 Ideology of Democrats by year respondent turned 20 / 156
- 7.14 Ideology of pure independents by year respondent turned 20 / 157
- 7.15 Summary issue positions, by party ID and age group, 2014 / 157
- 7.16 Republicans' opinions and media use, by age group / 158
- 7.17 Approval of Obama's performance, by race/ethnicity / 159
- 8.1 Effect of the presidential vote on the House Vote 1952–2016 (regression and correlation coefficients) / 166
- 8.2 Effects of the presidential vote on the Senate Vote, 1948–2016 (regression and correlation coefficients) / 167
- 8.3 States and districts delivering split outcomes in presidential and congressional contests, 1952–2016 / 168
- 8.4 Ticket splitting in national elections, 1952–2016 / 169
- 8.5 Party loyalty and defection in presidential and House elections, 1952–2016 / 170
- 8.6 Party loyalty and defection in presidential and Senate elections, 1952–2016 / 170
- 8.7 Correlations between the vote for president, state assembly, US House, and party registration in California, 1968–2016 / 172
- 8.8 Presidential approval and generic US House vote / 175
- 8.9 Presidential approval and preference for party control of Congress / 175
- 8.10 Midterm House and Senate votes congruent with presidential approval, 1946–2014 (percent) / 187
- 8.11 Effects of presidential approval on the House and Senate vote, controlling for incumbency and party identification, midterm elections / 188
- 8.12 Effects of presidential approval on the House and Senate vote, controlling for incumbency and party identification, presidential election years / 188
- 8.13 Is your vote for Congress a vote for or against the president? / 189
- 9.1 Partisan differences in presidential approval, Eisenhower to Trump (quarterly averages) / 192
- 9.2 Partisan thermometer ratings of presidential candidates, 1968–2016 / 200
- 9.3 Correlations between racial resentment and reactions to parties and candidates / 203

Figures / xvii

- 9.4 Approval of Trump's job performance, January 2017–April 2018 / 207
- 9.5 Approval of Obama and Trump's job performances, by demographics (Obama's last year, Trump's first year) / 208
- 9.6 Republicans' opinions of Trump, the Republican Party, and Republicans in Congress and their leaders / 218

