

C O N T E N T S

Foreword

by Charles E. Butterworth xi

Introduction 1

P A R T O N E

Orientation: Philosophy, Jurisprudence, and Theology

1. The Political Orientation of Islamic Philosophy 15
 - Philosophy and the Divine Law 17
 - Islamic Jurisprudence and Theology 20
 - Nature and Convention 23
 - Philosophy and Mysticism 25
 - The Divine Law and Philosophy 27
2. Philosophy and Political Thought 29
 - The Challenge of the Revealed Religions 31
 - Implications for Philosophy 33
 - The Problem 37
 - Jurisprudence and Political Philosophy 39
 - Theology: Natural and Revealed 41
 - Theology and Jurisprudence 43
3. The Foundation of Islamic Philosophy 47
 - Alfarabi, al-Kindī, and al-Rāzī 47
 - Alfarabi's On the Rise of Philosophy 52
 - Political Philosophy and Metaphysics 56
 - City, Soul, and Cosmos 58
 - The Question of Realization 60

P A R T T W O
The Virtuous City
4.	Science, Philosophy, and Religion 65
	Science, Art, and Philosophy 69
	Natural, Divine, and Political Science 78
	Political Science 1 and 2 83
	Jurisprudence and Theology 89
	The Lawgiver, Religion, and Political Science 92
	The Philosophic Science of Religion 94
5.	Political Philosophy and Religion 97
	What Is Religion? 98
	The Size of the Group 99
	The Founder: His Purpose 100
	The Founder: His Art 102
	Opinions 105
	Actions 108
	Definitions 108
	Religion and Philosophy 113
	Dialectic and Rhetoric 115
	Jurisprudence, Religion, and Philosophy 116
	Political Science: The City, the Universe, and Human Beings 118
	Alfarabi's Political Corpus 122
6.	The Virtuous City 125
	Divine and Political Science 126
	The Virtuous Regime 128
	The Philosopher-King and the Prophet-Legislator 131
	Law and Living Wisdom 136
	War and the Limitations of Law 139
	Democracy and the Virtuous Regime 144
7.	Prophecy and Revelation 147
	Human Religions 150
	The Active Intellect and the Human Imagination 153
	Virtuous City 1 156
	Virtuous City 2 159
	Revelation 161
	The Political Dimension 162
	Novel Doctrine 166
	Concluding Remarks 168

P A R T T H R E E

On the Philosophy of Plato and Aristotle

8. The Attainment of Happiness 173
 Interlude 175
 The Investigator and the Prince 183
 Prince, Philosopher, Legislator, and Imām 186
9. On Aristotle's Starting Point 196
 The Question of Human Perfection 201
 Brutish Beginnings and Human Excellence 205
10. On Philosophy and Religion 208
 The Syllogistic Arts: Five Stages of Their Development 208
 Philosophy and Religion: Internal Development 217
 Philosophy and Religion: Cross-national Movements 219
 Alliance between Religion and Demonstrative Philosophy 226
11. Religion and the Cyclical View of History 229
 Aristotle's and Aristoteles/Aristocles' Accounts 231
 Exploration, Perfection, and Loss (Metaphysics, Lambda 8.1074b1 ff.) 232
 The Five Phases of the Cycle (Aristoteles/Aristocles, On Philosophy, frag. 8 Ross) 232
 Alfarabi's On the Rise of Philosophy and Book of Letters 234
 Alfarabi's Successors 237
 The New Perspective: Machiavelli and Nietzsche 238
- References 241
 Acknowledgements 247
 Index 249

