Acknowledgments

Since I was first invited to be scholar-in-residence at the Bard Music Festival and to edit Rachmaninoff and His World for its accompanying publication series, I have greatly depended on the advice, kindness, and generosity of many individuals. Leon Botstein, Christopher H. Gibbs, and Irene Zedlacher have helped shape the contents of this volume, as well as of the festival itself (where Byron Adams also shared his expertise). Paul De Angelis, Erin Clermont, Christopher Deschene, Scott Smiley, and Karen Spencer have guided this book through to publication with deft professionalism. Margaret Frainier provided crucial research assistance, and I am grateful to the following colleagues and friends for stimulating conversations, bibliographical sources, and creative insights along the way: Iain Burnside, Clément Dessy, Stefano Evangelista, Annegret Fauser, Christoph Flamm, Daniel M. Grimley, Nick Hearn, Martin Holmes, Aleksandr Komarov, Elizabeth Macfarlane, Grigory Moiseev, Elger Neils, Geoffrey Norris, Marsha Seifert, Emma Smith, Laura Tunbridge, Ronald de Vet, Ettore Volontieri, and Wouter de Voogd.
