

Contents

Acknowledgements / vii

Introduction: The Murder of Mary Lane / 1

PART I

- 1 A Vulnerable and Isolated Virtue / 9
- 2 A Workhouse Child, & You Know What That Is! / 23
- 3 Garden of the Lord / 39
- 4 A Good and Faithful Servant / 60

PART II

- 5 My Downfall / 76
- 6 One of the Most Atrocious Crimes / 105
- 7 He Fears Not God, Neither Regards Man / 106
- 8 I Am Guilty! / 119
- 9 In Purple and Fine Linen / 130
- 10 Now I Feel Ashamed / 145
- 11 A Man Coldly Impervious to the Emotional / 161

PART III

- 12 Whene'er a Wrong Is Done / 171
- 13 Novels, Poems, and Coon Songs / 193
- 14 Duty to the Public / 210
- 15 The Interests of Province, Not Party / 229
- 16 Come Ye That Are Weary / 240

Aftermath / 252

Writing about Hilda Blake: A Note on Sources / 258

Notes / 261

Index / 312

*Dedicated to Paul and Helene Kramer,
and to 'Jozef Tomczak', who, though he never existed, was forced to fend for himself at the age of 12 in 1945.*

*To Bonnie,
who stopped measuring the cost
long ago.*