

Acknowledgments

THIS BOOK grew out of a double-session panel entitled “Chinese Gods beyond the Bureaucracy” at the 1992 annual meeting of the Association for Asian Studies. The original participants in this panel were: Ursula-Angelika Cedzich, Robert Hymes, Paul Katz, P. Steven Sangren, Meir Shahar, and Robert Weller. (Cedzich had by then already committed her paper for publication elsewhere.) We are grateful to the two discussants at the panel, David Johnson and James L. Watson, for their useful comments and suggestions. The manuscript benefited from the comments of anonymous readers for University of Hawai‘i Press as well as suggestions made by Stephen F. Teiser. We are grateful to them all. Finally, we would like to express our thanks to our editor at the University of Hawai‘i Press, Patricia Crosby.
