

Contents

PART I CULTURAL ASPECTS OF REVOLT AND SYNTHESIS

Chapter 1 The Vision of Dynamic Unity 1

- The Seventeenth Century Background 4
- The Dialectic of Struggle and Synthesis 5
- Christian Neoplatonism as Synthesis: Some Seventeenth Century Emphases 8
- Libertinism and Honestas: Possibilities of Synthesis 15
- Tension and Synthesis in the Styles of Art 21

Chapter 2 Crisis in the Republic of Letters 28

- The Character of the Republic of Letters 28
- The Educational Role of the Republic: Encyclopedism 32
- The Expansion of Literary Forms 36
- The New Logic 37
- Sectarianism and the Quarrel between the Ancients and Moderns 38
- Satire in the Republic of Letters 42
- Eclecticism, the New Metaphysics, and the Ideal of Harmony 45
- Erudition and the New Sciences 48
- Conclusion 51

Chapter 3 The Kingdom of Grace and the World 53

- The Two Kingdoms 54
- Universality of the Kingdom of Grace 55
- Philosophy as Apologetic 58
- Atheism: Its Scope 60
- The Natural Light of Reason 63
- Arguments for the Existence of God 70
- Evil and History 74
- Eschatology and the Limit of History 77
- Practical Efforts for Reunion in the Kingdom of Grace 82
- Conclusion 84

Chapter 4 The New Science: Its Intellectual Foundations and Humanistic Claims 86

- The New Cultural Grounds for Science 86
- The Glorification of God and the Book of Nature 89
- The Secrets of Nature 91
- Mathematical Explanation and the Problem of the Origin of Forms 95
- Options Inhering in Scientific Explanation 104
- The Break-away of Science 111

PART II METAPHYSICAL ISSUES IN THE STRUGGLE

Chapter 5 The Ideas: The Old and the New Way 117

- New Tasks for the Ideas 119
- Platonism in Descartes and Spinoza 120
- The Old Way of Ideas in Leibniz 125
- The New Way of Ideas: Locke 127
- Trends toward Subjectivism and Relativism 129

Chapter 6 The Transcendentals 132

- New Significance of an Old Doctrine 132
- Scholastic Conceptions of the Transcendentals 134
- Renaissance Expansions of the Doctrine 136
- The Immanence of the Transcendentals: The Herborn Group 141
- Transcendentals in the Great Systems 145
- The Unresolved Status of the Transcendentals 151

Chapter 7 Order and Method 157

- Order and Method in Zabarella 157
- Ambiguities in the Aim of Method 160
- Scientific Method: Unity of the A priori and A posteriori Approaches 162
- The Loss of Certainty 166
- The Variety of Orders in Leibniz 169
- Summary 175

Chapter 8 On Universal Harmony 177

- Linguistic and Musical Analogies to Harmony 178
- Expansion of the Ideal of Musical Harmony 181
- Other Derivative Applications of Harmony 184

xi Contents

Universal Harmony: Its Metaphysical Basis 186
Metaphysical Harmony in Its Psychological and Epistemological Bearing 188
The Exclusion of Nature from Harmony 193
Harmony as the Best of All Possibilities: Leibniz 196

Chapter 9 What Is Nature? 203
Nature, Its Reference and Its Reality 204
Polarities in the Interpretation of Nature 206
Robert Boyle's Misgivings about Nature 208
Nature Beyond Mechanism 212
Miracle and Order 214
Causality as Principle and Problem 217
The Problem of the Origin of Forms and Qualities 219
The Ambiguous Status of Nature 221

Chapter 10 Man and His Nature: From Microcosm to Mind-Body 224
Human Nature and the Uniqueness of the Individual:
The Principle of Individuation 227
The Internal View and Man's Growing Isolation 231
Feeling and the Trend toward Subjectivism 234
The Unconscious and Disharmony 237
The Social Nature of the Individual 239
The Nature of Love 242
Natural Law and Symbiosis 243
Freedom 245
Power and Goodness 246
Conclusion 248

Notes 253
Bibliography 281
Index 299

