"Maske und Kothurn", the journal of the TFM/Institute for Theatre-, Film- and Media sciences at the University of Vienna, discusses the tension between art and science in four issues a year. The international contributions to theatre, film and media sciences analyse forms of performing in the media reality, especially regarding the connections of production and reception. By dealing with up-to-date aesthetic phenomena, "Maske und Kothurn" tries to newly explore the status of performing arts and media in the 21st century.
