The journal aims to become the leading and most recognizable journal in the field of life sciences, as well as to facilitate the communication and collaboration of scientists across different countries.

Why read

- The journal publishes research from all areas of the life sciences, including the most recent and significant findings
- Researchers use it to reveal data that is likely to advance the direction and the thinking of the field
- It is an international forum for the dissemination of research data across the entire spectrum of biology
- The publication is designed to facilitate the exchange of ideas between researchers from different countries

Why submit

- The journal is included in the ISI Master Journal List, Science Citation Index Expanded and Journal Citation Reports (Thomson Reuters)
- Transparent, comprehensive and fast peer review
- Free language-correction services for authors from non-English speaking regions
- Worldwide dissemination and unrestricted access to all published articles
- Promotion of each published article

Topical/Special Issues (volume 2017):

Special Issue on Agricultural and Biological Sciences
published in cooperation with The 3rd International Conference on Agricultural and Biological Sciences (ABS 2017) held from June 26th to June 29th, 2017 in Qingdao, Shandong Province, China.
Guest Editor:
Dr. Xiangjia Min, Department of Biological Sciences, Center for Applied Chemical Biology, Youngstown State University, Ohio, USA

Topical Issue On Precision Medicine
Guest Editor:
Jiacong (Jessica) You, PhD

Open Life Sciences (previously Central European Journal of Biology) is a fast growing peer-reviewed journal, devoted to scholarly research in all areas of life sciences, such as molecular biology, plant science, biotechnology, cell biology, biochemistry, biophysics, microbiology and virology, ecology, differentiation and development, genetics and many others.

The content published includes research articles, communications or rapid communications, reviews or commentaries, letters to the Editor or Errata.

Open Life Sciences assures top quality of published data through critical peer review and editorial involvement throughout the whole publication process. Thanks to the Open Access model of publishing, it also offers unrestricted access to published articles for all users.
