Eighth International Kant Congress, Memphis

The Kant-Gesellschaft e. V., Bonn, has authorized the North American Kant Society and Memphis State University to host the Eighth International Kant Congress in Memphis, March 1 – 5, 1995. Both invited and submitted presentations will be included. The theme of the conference is Kant's philosophy in general, though contributions are especially welcome concerning the essay Zum Ewigen Frieden, the 200th anniversary of whose publication falls in the congress year. In addition, reports on the status of Kant studies in areas outside Western Europe and North America are solicited.

Submitted contributions may be in English, French or German. Maximum reading time is 20 minutes, interpreted as 12 double-spaced pages consisting of 30 lines of 60 character spaces each.

The deadline for submitted contributions is March 1, 1994. Contributions should be submitted to: Organizing Committee, 8th International Kant Congress, Dept. of Philosophy, Memphis State University, Memphis TN 38152 USA.

Paper submission specifications. – The organizing committee hopes to review submissions as quickly as possible, and to publish accepted papers prior to the congress. Accordingly, it requests authors to submit their contributions in the following form:
