Contents

Marjo Buitelaar and Hetty Zock
Introduction: Religious Voices in Self-Narratives —— 1

Part I:
The Narrative Construction of Religious Selves

Hetty Zock
Religious Voices in the Dialogical Self: Towards a Conceptual-Analytical Framework on the Basis of Hubert Hermans’s Dialogical Self Theory —— 11

Froukje Pitstra
Religious Voices in Autobiography and Biography: Analyzing Life Stories Using Elements of the Theories of McAdams and Hermans —— 37

James M. Day
Narration, Identity, and Human Development: Cognitive-Developmental and Discursive Approaches to Understanding Religious Voices in Self-Narratives —— 53

Gary S. Gregg
Religious Voices and Identity in the Life-Narratives of Young Adult Moroccans —— 83

Part II:
Using Religion in Times of Transition

Robyn Fivush
Religious Narratives, Identity, and Well-Being in American Adolescents —— 105

Tania Zittoun
Religious Traditions as Means of Innovation: The Use of Symbolic Resources in the Life Course —— 129

Ulrike Popp-Baier
‘It Can’t Be as Beautiful in Heaven as It Is Here’: Religious Turbulence in Christoph Schlingensief’s Cancer Diary —— 149
Barbara Henkes
Religion as a Mediating Agent in a Migrant’s Life Story: Multiple I-Positions in the Self-Narratives of a German Maidservant Who Became a Dutch Housewife — 171

Part III:
Religious Positioning in Diaspora

Ellis Jonker
Daughter Lost and Found: Coming to Terms with Religious Conversion by Marriage — 189

Sunil Bhatia
Religious Identity on the Peripheries: The Dialogical Self in a Global World — 215

Marjo Buitelaar
Constructing a Muslim Self in a Post-Migration Context: Continuity and Discontinuity with Parental Voices — 241

List of authors — 275

Index — 279