EFFECTIVE JANUARY 2021

ARTICLE PROCESSING CHARGES

In order to sustain the production of our fully-refereed open access journal, each article accepted for publication in Animal Migration is subject to a voluntary Article Processing Charge. This fee is used to cover the costs of manuscript processing, professional typesetting and copyediting, as well as online hosting, long-term preservation, content aggregators worldwide, and extensive promotion to potential readers.

There are no submission charges – Article Processing Charges apply after the acceptance of a manuscript. The Article Processing Charge is voluntary. The authors decide on the amount they are able to pay considering their funding support. Information regarding payment of these charges will be provided following acceptance for publication. All inquiries concerning Article Processing Charges should be addressed before or immediately after submitting a paper to the Editorial Office.

Editors and reviewers are not involved in author payment process. The ability to pay does not influence whether or not a manuscript is accepted for publication.

If funds allow, the full fee per article is €1000 EUR, or $1200 US, or $1400 Can.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Authors who are looking for funds to support the payment of Article Processing Charges have a number of options to consider. For details visit the Funding and Support page of the de Gruyter website.
