

Call for Submissions

Journal of Perinatal Medicine - Stillbirth Theme Issue

The Editor-in-Chief, Prof. Joachim Dudenhausen, and Guest Editors Prof Jason Gardosi and Prof Alex Heazell are pleased to announce a special thematic issue of the Journal of Perinatal Medicine on Stillbirth.

Call for submissions: The Editors aim to produce an issue which will present new progress in our understanding of causes and risk factors, as well as latest improvements in care and prevention. We are particularly interested in papers in the following areas:

- Risk factors: epidemiology and clinical insights
- Pathophysiology and the placenta
- Strategies for prevention
- Audit and case review of service and outcome
- Bereavement care: local and global perspectives

Key publication details:

- Submission deadline: 31 August 2021.
- On-line first publication: 2-3 weeks after acceptance
- Issue compiled and printed: Spring 2022
- Free access to all articles in this special issue

See website of the Journal of Perinatal Medicine (<https://www.degruyter.com/view/j/jpme>) for:

- Author information (with article types)
- Submission process: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jpmed>

Prospective authors are asked to notify the issue editors of their intent to submit an article:

Jason Gardosi, Perinatal Institute, UK, jgardosi@perinatal.org.uk; and

Alexander Heazell, Manchester Academic Health Science Centre, UK, Alexander.Heazell@manchester.ac.uk

Please reference “Stillbirth special issue” in your cover letter.

All manuscripts will undergo the standard Journal of Perinatal Medicine editorial and peer review process, and acceptance for publication will be subject to the outcome of peer review.

For any general questions, please contact the editorial office (jpm.editorial@degruyter.com).

About the Journal of Perinatal Medicine:

- The official journal of the World Association of Perinatal Medicine, the International Academy of Perinatal Medicine and the Society The Fetus as a Patient
- Indexed in major abstracting and indexing services such as Medline, Scopus and Web of Science
- Peer-reviewed and led by a multi-institutional editorial board
- Focused on perinatal and related research, and addressed to obstetricians, neonatologists, perinatologists and allied health professionals
- Published by De Gruyter, an international, independent scientific publisher