

OPEN ECONOMICS TOPICAL ISSUE PROPOSALS

Open Economics journal invites researchers and conference organizers to submit their proposals of edited volumes to be considered as topical issues. We recommend that the topical issue should consist of at least 5 articles.

WHY PUBLISH A SPECIAL ISSUE IN OPEN ECONOMICS?

- unrestricted access to all readers worldwide
- no Article Processing Charges (APCs)
- easy to manage peer-review process in Editorial Manager
- continuous publication – articles are published immediately after the completion of the editing process
- extensive promotion and worldwide distribution of each published article
- support from the Managing Editor at every step of the process
- no word or page limit per article or issue. We recommend that the topical issue should consist of at least 5 articles

HOW TO SUBMIT?

To submit your proposal, please fill out this form and send it to konrad.sarzynski@degruyter.com. The proposal should include:

- information about guest editor (affiliation, email address, short bio or link to an online resume)
- rationale (working title of the issue, outline of its scope, brief explanation why it is relevant and important, the approximate number of articles it will include)
- a preliminary schedule (when the papers will be submitted? when do you plan to publish the articles?)

RESPONSIBILITIES OF GUEST EDITOR:

- ensure manuscripts fall within the scope of the issue and the journal
- manage the peer review process of the articles
- communicate with the authors, reviewers and Managing Editor
- write an editorial to the Topical Issue (optional)
- ensure a timely delivery of the manuscripts
