DESCRIPTION

Subjectivity and intersubjectivity are core phenomena of any interaction. This issue focuses on linguistic aspects of the subjectivity and intersubjectivity. Subjectivity is generally treated as speaker-orientation, the expression of the speaker/writer himself/herself and his/her own attitudes and beliefs. Intersubjectivity is regarded as hearer-orientation – the involvement of the hearer/reader, which manifests itself in the speaker’s attention toward the addressee. We await papers discussing approaches to the subjectivity and intersubjectivity in language and its use, addressing their different aspects, such as expression of modality, deicticity, expressiveness, emotionality, entrenchment of (inter)subjectivity in grammar and discourse; politeness and impoliteness; (inter)subjectivity in different genres, text types, and registers.

HOW TO SUBMIT

The authors are kindly invited to submit their contribution via the online submission system Editorial Manager available at: www.editorialmanager.com/opli/default.aspx

Please select the Category “SI Subjectivity and Intersubjectivity in Language” to ensure that the manuscript is processed by the Guest Editors.

It is important that authors include a cover letter with their manuscript. The cover letter should explicitly state that the manuscript (or one with substantially the same content, by any of the authors) has not been previously published in any language anywhere and that it is not under simultaneous consideration or in press by another journal.

Before submission the authors should carefully read over the Instructions for Authors, which are located at:

SUBJECTIVITY AND INTERSUBJECTIVITY IN LANGUAGE

There are no specific length restrictions for the overall manuscript or individual sections; however, we urge the authors to present and discuss their findings in a concise and accessible manner. We recommend a length of 4,000–10,000 words, excluding the bibliography and captions.

Submission of a manuscript does not necessarily imply approval for its publication in this Open Linguistics special issue. The manuscript will be subjected to a peer review procedure managed by our esteemed Guest Editors and its acceptance will depend on this assessment.

Because Open Linguistics is published in Open Access, as a rule, publication costs should be covered by so-called Article Publishing Charges (APC). Authors without access to publishing funds are encouraged to discuss potential discounts or waivers with the Managing Editor of the journal Katarzyna Inga Michalak (katarzyna.michalak@degruyter.com) before submitting their manuscripts.

We are looking forward to your submission up to 01.11.2022. If you have any questions, please contact Dr Helle Metslang helle.metslang@ut.ee or Katarzyna Inga Michalak katarzyna.michalak@degruyter.com.
