

AUTHOR'S STATEMENTS

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

To ensure fair and objective decision-making, authors must disclose that they have no financial, personal or professional relationships with other people or organizations in connection with evaluated manuscripts. There has been no direct financial interest in the subject matter or materials discussed in the manuscript that could inappropriately influence the work submitted. All authors must contribute to the manuscript and approve its final version.

If there are no conflicts of interest, the following statement should be included before the References:

Conflict of Interests Statement: The authors declare that there is no conflict of interests regarding the publication of this article.

INFORMED CONSENT

The protection of privacy is a legal right that must not be breached without individual informed consent. In cases where the identification of personal information is necessary for scientific reasons, authors should obtain full documentation of informed consent, including written permission from the patient prior to inclusion in the study.

The following (or similar) statement should be included in the Materials and Methods section:

Informed Consent Statement: All participants' rights were protected and a written informed consents were obtained before the procedures according to the Helsinki Declaration.

AUTHORIZATION FOR THE USE OF HUMAN SUBJECTS

Manuscripts containing information related to human use should clearly state that the research has complied with all relevant national regulations and institutional policies and has been approved by the authors' institutional review board or equivalent committee. The editors reserve the right to seek additional information or guidance from reviewers on any cases in which concerns arise.

All investigation with human subjects must have been conducted by following the tenets of the Helsinki Declaration, what is more authors must identify the committee or review board approving the experiments, and provide a statement indicating approval of the research

The following (or similar) statement should be included in the Materials and Methods section:

Ethical Approval: The research related to human use has been complied with all the relevant national regulations, institutional policies and in accordance the tenets of the Helsinki Declaration, and has been approved by the authors' institutional review board or equivalent committee. In addition to that the number and the date must be written and the document have to be attached to the cover letter section.

AUTHORIZATION FOR THE USE OF EXPERIMENTAL ANIMALS

Manuscripts containing information related to animals use should clearly state that the experiments on animals were conducted in accordance with local ethical Committee laws and regulations as regards care and use of laboratory animals. Also the guiding principles for experimental procedures found in the Declaration of Helsinki of the World Medical Association regarding animal experimentation have to be followed in the study. The editors reserve the right to seek additional information or guidance from reviewers on any cases in which concerns arise. The research using animal subjects should be conducted according to the Principles of Laboratory Animal Care and similar documents (e.g. <http://grants.nih.gov/grants/olaw/olaw.htm>). For manuscripts reporting experiments on live vertebrates or higher invertebrates, authors must identify the committee approving the experiments, and must confirm that all experiments were performed in accordance with relevant regulations.

The following (or similar) statement should be included in the Materials and Methods section:

Ethical Approval: The experiments on animals were conducted in accordance with the local Ethical Committee laws and regulations as regards care and use of experimental animals.

If the manuscript does not contain any study that requires human or animal ethical approval, the following statement should be included in the Materials and Methods section:

Ethical Approval: The conducted research is not related to either human or animal use.