

Call for paper.

17th ICHG Post-Conference Thematic Issue: "History and space: challenges, methods, applications."

Dear participants of the 17th International Conference of Historical Geographers,

Following the participation, as well as fruitful and inspiring meeting during 17th ICHG 2018 in Warsaw, all authors presenting during the ICHG are welcome to submit full paper to the international and cross disciplinary open access journal "Miscellanea Geographica – Regional Studies on Development". Each submitted full paper of the ICHG participants will be considered for publication in a Thematic Issue of the "Miscellanea Geographica" entitled "History and space: challenges, methods and applications." All full paper submissions have to be received by October 31, 2018.

Similarly to the topic of the Conference, the thematic issue will focus on historical geography, with emphasis on the empirical, theoretical and historiographical aspects of the field and related disciplines, as well as the history of cartography, and environmental history.

The aim of the "Miscellanea Geographica" journal is to present the diversity of geography and to form a contemporary image of the subject as an interdisciplinary science. We therefore publish texts on geography, as well as papers outlining research results from the fields of historical and social studies, political studies, regional studies and regional economics – from the local, regional and even the global perspective. "Miscellanea Geographica" is covered by more than 30 services, including WEB OF SCIENCE (ESCI, Clarivate Analytics), SCOPUS (Elsevier), and ERIH PLUS.

For more details, please visit the journal website at:

<https://content.sciendo.com/view/journals/mgrsd/mgrsd-overview.xml>. In case of any doubt feel free to use the following mail address: miscellanea.geographica@uw.edu.pl

With kind regards,

Editorial Team

"Miscellanea Geographica – Regional Studies on Development"