Thanks to Ron Godfrey and John Milne for allowing us to go through the house once inhabited by Robert Lane, Mary Lane, and Hilda Blake. Isobel Cotton, who several years ago put together a scrapbook on the Church of the Advent in Kola, helped with information about the Stewarts' role in the church. On a pleasant and companionable trip out to the Church of the Advent, Doug Freeman told us what he knew of the Stewart and Rex families. Jim and Elizabeth Wall of the South West Branch of the Manitoba Genealogical Society shared information about family histories. During evening walks, Chris Johnson, whose grandmother was the first person at Mary Lane's side on 5 July 1899, made numerous suggestions and offered his unique insight into the case.

Thanks to Don Hamilton for providing access to records of the former Brandon jail. Thanks also to Lorraine Thurston; Olive Andrews; Jean Scott; Chris Dunning of the Rural Municipality of Wallace; Val Hulbert of the Anglican Diocesan Office in Brandon; Jody Baltessen, Jackie Nicholls, Brian Hubner, Janelle Reynolds, and the late Michelle Fitzgerald of the Manitoba Provincial Archives. Loretta Barber, Lorraine Gadoury, and Tina Lloyd at the National Archives of Canada assisted with Ottawa files related to the Blake case. Alicja Brancewicz in the Brandon University library cheerfully arranged valuable interlibrary loans throughout this project. Ron Gonty helped with land titles, homestead records, and photographs of the Rex family; Edward Phelps of the University of Western Ontario searched the David Mills papers; and Jim Naylor of Brandon University suggested useful sources.

We also thank our British friends: Dianne Yeadon of the Norfolk Studies Library; Jean Kennedy of the Norfolk Record Office; Superintendent Kirkham of the Norfolk Constabulary. Dr John Alban, County Archivist at the Norfolk Record Office, arranged our access to records from the Heckingham Workhouse. Christina Crease and Carol Carpenter, who have published a little parish history called 'Langley-with-Hardley', enthusiastically answered many of our queries.

Bill Morrison, Paula Mallea, Rita Kramer, David Williams, Greg Kealey, an anonymous reviewer for Oxford University Press, and Richard Tallman read drafts of the manuscript at various stages and provided many useful comments. Phyllis Wilson suggested the title. And: without the unattainable targets of Peter Brown's Augustine of Hippo and Carlo Ginzburg's The Cheese and the Worms: The Cosmos of a Sixteenth-Century Miller, this book could not have been written in the form that it is.
