

CONTENTS

Preface ix

Acknowledgments xiii

Maps xv

- 1 The Militia Myth: Canadian Arms to Confederation 3
- 2 Making an Army: Beginnings 24
- 3 A Militia under Arms: Sam Hughes's Army 53
- 4 Becoming Professional: Arthur Currie's Army 96
- 5 Losing Professionalism: The Interwar Years 147
- 6 McNaughton's Army: The Long Wait 175
- 7 Into Battle: Sicily and Italy, July 1943–June 1944 217
- 8 Into Battle: Northwest Europe and Italy, June 1944–May 1945 254
- 9 The Professional Army, 1945–1968 310
- 10 Professionalism under Siege, 1968–2001 359
- 11 Afghanistan and the Remaking of the Army 419

Contents

12 Conclusion 453

Notes 469

A Selected Bibliography of Secondary Sources 531

Illustration Credits 541

Index 543

Illustrations follow page 288