

Contents

Foreword, by Georgi Derluguian, xi

Introduction, xiii

Guide to the Maps, xv

1. The Caucasus: Historical and Geographic Areas and Contemporary Borders, 3
2. 1722–1739: The Imperial Rivalry over the Caucasus Borderlands, 4
3. 1763–1785: The Caucasus around the Time of the Russian Conquests, 4
4. 1774–1783: Ethnolinguistic Map of the Greater Caucasus, 8
5. 1791–1801: The Caucasus Defensive Line from Kizlyar to Taman, 13
6. 1801–1829: Russia’s Acquisition of Transcaucasia and the War in the Greater Caucasus, 13
7. 1829–1839: Administrative Makeup of the Early Russian Caucasus, 18
8. 1840–1849: Escalation of the Caucasus War and (Re-)Establishment of the Viceroyalty, 18
9. 1856–1859: Before the Final Storming of the “Caucasus Fortress,” 23
10. 1860–1864: The End of the War and the Formation of Kuban, Terek, and Daghestan Provinces, 23
11. 1865–1870: Military-Native Government in Highlander Territories, 28
12. 1867–1886: The Ethnolinguistic and Administrative Composition of Daghestan, 28
13. 1871–1881: The Trend toward Civilian Government in the North Caucasus, 33
14. 1881–1888: The Caucasian Periphery of the Emerging Russian Nation, 36
15. 1763–1913: 150 Years of Russian Colonization, 39
16. 1913: The Terek Cossack Host, 39
17. 1763–1918: 155 Years of Non-Russian Colonization, 45
18. 1886–1890: An Ethnolinguistic Map of the Caucasus, 48
19. 1886–1890: A Religious Map of the Caucasus, 51
20. 1913: Land and Ethnicity in Terek Province, 55
21. 1903–1917: Administrative Divisions before the Collapse of the Empire, 58

22. October 1917–May 1918: The Beginning of the Civil War and Foreign Intervention, 61
23. May–November 1918: The Emergence of Independent States in Transcaucasia, 61
24. December 1918–November 1919: Denikin’s Dominance in the North Caucasus, 61
25. 1917–1919: The Gorskaya Republic, a Failed Attempt at Independence, 67
26. 1920: The Azerbaijan Democratic Republic and Soviet Russia, 71
27. 1920: Partition of the Republic of Armenia, 74
28. 1921: The End of the Georgian Democratic Republic, 77
29. 1921: Early Administrative Divisions in the Soviet Caucasus, 80
30. 1922–1928: Building a Soviet State out of Multitude of Nations, 83
31. 1926: An Ethnic Map Reflecting the First Soviet Census, 87
32. 1926: Using the Census to Identify Russians and Ukrainians, 87
33. 1929–1934: The Rise and Fall of the “National Principle” in Administrative Divisions, 91
34. 1936–1938: The Constitutional Codification of a Hierarchy among Peoples and Territories, 91
35. 1937–1949: World War II and Ethnic Deportations from the Caucasus, 96
36. 1943–1956: A Selective Purge of the Ethnopolitical Map, 96
37. 1957: The Return of the Deported Peoples and the Restoration of Their Autonomies, 101
38. 1957–1990: Stability and Conflict under “Developed Socialism,” 104
39. 1989–1991: Overview of the Ethnopolitical Rivalries at the Conclusion of the Soviet Era, 107
40. 1991–2003: The Dissolution of the Soviet Union and the Escalation of Armed Conflict in the Caucasus, 107
41. 1988–1994: Mountain (Nagorny) Karabakh, 114
42. 1991–1992: South and North Ossetia, 117
43. 1992–1993: Abkhazia, 117
44. 1994–2003: Chechnya and Daghestan, 124
45. 1989–2010: An Ethnic Map of the Caucasus, 127
46. 2012: Major Roads and Transportation Corridors, 131
47. 2012: Primary Petroleum Transportation Routes, 131
- 48–56. Conflicting Historical Visions of Homelands and Borders, 136
 48. Azerbaijan and Azerbaijanis, 136
 49. Armenia and Armenians, 137
 50. Georgia and Georgians, 137

- 51. Abkhazia and the Abkhaz, 140
- 52. Chechnya, Ingushetia, and Vainakhs, 140
- 53. Ossetia and Ossetians, 141
- 54. Circassia and the Adyghe, 143
- 55. Karachai, Balkaria, and the Karachai-Balkars, 143
- 56. Cossacks and Russians in the North Caucasus, 145
- 57. 2014: The Political and Administrative Map of the Caucasus, 148

Appendix 1: The Area and Population of Administrative Units and States of the Caucasus Region, 151

Appendix 2: Major Cities in the Caucasus, 176

Appendix 3: Ethnic Composition of the Caucasus: Historical Population Statistics, 178

Appendix 4: Administrative Units of the Russian Empire and the USSR, 195

List of Sources, 205

Maps 205

Bibliographical References 210

This page intentionally left blank