

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments ix
Author's Note xiii
Introduction 1

PART ONE

The Young Jefferson

ONE Lost: One Large Moose 9
TWO The Man Who Could Not Live Without Books 14
THREE Schooling, Formal and Informal 25
FOUR A Measured and Orderly World 38

PART TWO

Natural Science

FIVE Science and the Mastodon 51
SIX The Natural History of Virginia and America 62
SEVEN Mountains and Shells 74
EIGHT On Fossils and Extinction 86

PART THREE

They, the People

NINE Europe and the Peoples of America 101
TEN Natural History, Slavery, and Race 118
ELEVEN The Color of Their Skin 134

PART FOUR

Useful Knowledge

- TWELVE The Paris Years 145
 THIRTEEN The Practical Scientist 165

PART FIVE

The National Stage

- FOURTEEN Climate and Geography 179
 FIFTEEN Redeeming the Wilderness 195
 SIXTEEN The Unknown West 216

PART SIX

Philosophical Issues

- SEVENTEEN “His Theories I Cannot Admire” 229
 EIGHTEEN Philosophers Unwelcome 239
 NINETEEN Transcendental Truths 252

Epilogue. Measuring the Shadow 259

Appendix: Jefferson’s Letter on Climate to Jean Baptiste Le Roy 265

Notes 271

Index 305