Tables and Figures

TABLES
1. Grain crops in Shansi province, 1914–18 36
3. Alternative estimates of value added in Chinese cotton textiles, 1870s–1930s 41
4. Sources of wheat supply for Shanghai flour mills, 1914–34 46

FIGURES
1. Trends in the share of agricultural and industrial output in gross national product 23
2. Builders' wages and the cost of living in Europe, 1440–1760: five-yearly averages 27
3. Labor markets in two localities 53
4. Fundamentals of labor market analysis 88
5. Analysis of missing markets 91
6. The market for slaves in the North and the South 92
7. International labor markets and migration 96
8. The choice between work and leisure 100
9. Unionization and the elasticity of labor demand 109
10. A reader's guide to the conversation of Clio and Hades 121
11. The wheel of wealth
12. Initial disequilibrium effects of the opening of trade:
   China's cotton yarn imports as of 1870
13. Distributional effects of iron and steel imports into
   China, 1900–1929