SEEDS OF THE SIXTIES
In memory of our fathers, Alvin Eyerman and Saunders Eliot Jamison, and to Jeff Alexander, our friend and colleague, who continues the long march through the institutions
History is a reservoir of human creativeness. Without the perpetual rediscovery and reinterpretation of history, without free access to that reservoir, the life of any single generation would be but a trickle of water in a desert.

Lewis Mumford, The Condition of Man (1944)
