ILLUSTRATIONS

1. Rudolf Pöch’s team at work taking measurements in the camps during World War I 139
2. Photograph of a Ukrainian soldier taken by Pöch’s team in the standard anthropological format of profile, frontal, and three-quarter views, 1917 142
3. Pöch’s plan for setting up a barracks for anthropological investigations, 1917 143
7. Type photograph of Algerian POW. Egon von Eickstedt’s project, 1916 164
10. “Paul Hambruch and Malagasy of the three main types.” Wilhelm Doege’s project, c. 1915–16 169
12. Racial portraits of African POWs. Wilhelm Doege’s project, c. 1915–16 176
13. “Gurkhas.” Wilhelm Doege’s project, c. 1915–16 177
14. Racial portraits of Jewish prisoners. Wilhelm Doege’s project, c. 1915–16 180
15. “I. Anderson, Scot.” Hermann Struck, c. 1915 183
16. “Different grades of expression of Mongolian characteristics in the eyelids of the peoples of European and Asiatic Russia.” Rudolf Pöch’s project, c. 1915–16 185