Contents

Preface vii

1 Introduction:
   Labor, Business, and the Shadow Welfare State 1

2 The Missing Millions:
   The "Exceptional" Politics of Organized Labor and the U.S. Welfare State 16

3 The Institutional Straightjacket of the Private Welfare State:
   Taft-Hartley, ERISA, and Experience-Rated Health Insurance 39

4 Labor Embraces a New Idea:
   The Journey from National Health Insurance to an Employer Mandate 65

5 Workers and Managers of the World, Unite:
   Wooing an Elusive Ally 86

6 Taking Care of Business:
   The Political Economy of the Health-Care Cost Burden 114

7 Adrift and on the Defensive:
   Labor and the Defeat of Clinton's Health Security Act 137

8 Conclusion:
   The Peculiar Politics of U.S. Health Policy 159

Notes 177
Abbreviations 243
Interviewees 245
Bibliography 249
Index 275